

Join the ENERGY STAR Network (5900-21):

The screenshot shows a Microsoft Internet Explorer browser window displaying the ENERGY STAR website. The address bar shows the URL: http://www.energystar.gov/index.cfm?c=small_business.sb_partner_info_form. The page title is "Partner Information : ENERGY STAR - Microsoft Internet Explorer".

The website header includes the ENERGY STAR logo, a search bar, and navigation links: "About ENERGY STAR", "News Room", and "FAQs". A banner image of a young boy is accompanied by the text "BE A LEADER – CHANGE OUR ENVIRONMENT FOR THE BETTER". On the right, there are links for "email this page", "print view", and "PDF Reader".

The main navigation menu includes: "PRODUCTS", "HOME IMPROVEMENT", "NEW HOMES", "BUSINESS IMPROVEMENT", and "PARTNER RESOURCES". Below this, a breadcrumb trail reads: "Home > Business Improvement > Small Business > Join the ENERGY STAR Network".

The left sidebar contains links for "What ENERGY STAR Offers", "Benefits of ENERGY STAR", "Calculate Your Savings", "FAQs", "Ask a Technical Question", "Success Stories & Awards", and "Join ENERGY STAR".

The main content area is titled "Join the ENERGY STAR Network". It includes a paragraph: "Yes, I would like to join the Network of small businesses and congregations working with ENERGY STAR." followed by a pledge: "I believe that greater energy efficiency can increase the financial health of my organization and aid in preserving the environment for future generations. On behalf of my organization, I pledge to buy ENERGY STAR equipment and upgrade the energy efficiency of my facilities whenever financially viable. As part of the Network, I may use the ENERGY STAR promotional mark in accordance with the ENERGY STAR identity guidelines."

Below the pledge is a note: "Asterisk (*) indicates a required field."

The form has two main sections:

- * TYPE OF ORGANIZATION
 - ☐ Small Business
 - Type of business
 - ☐ Congregation, or other non-profit
- * CONTACT INFORMATION

The Windows taskbar at the bottom shows the "start" button, several open applications, and the system clock displaying "10:21 AM".
