

Draft FFRDC Question on Character of Work

2. What percentage of your total and federal R&D expenditures are (a) basic research, (b) applied research, and (c) development? Please note that information received from institutions on basic research, applied research, and development is confidential and will not be published or released for individual FFRDCs.

Character of work	Total	Federal
A. Basic research – is research directed toward an increase of knowledge; it is research where the primary aim of the investigator is a fuller knowledge or understanding of the subject under study rather than a specific application thereof.	<input style="width: 100px; height: 20px;" type="text"/> %	<input style="width: 100px; height: 20px;" type="text"/> %
B. Applied research – is research conducted to gain the knowledge or understanding to meet a specific, recognized need.	<input style="width: 100px; height: 20px;" type="text"/> %	<input style="width: 100px; height: 20px;" type="text"/> %
C. Development – is the systematic use of the knowledge or understanding gained from research directed toward the production of useful materials, devices, systems, or methods, including the design and development of prototypes and processes.	<input style="width: 100px; height: 20px;" type="text"/> %	<input style="width: 100px; height: 20px;" type="text"/> %
