TITLE OF INFORMATION COLLECTION: Research to Reality User Satisfaction Survey

PURPOSE:

ResearchtoReality.cancer.gov is an online community of practice (CoP) designed to bring together cancer control practitioners and researchers to discuss moving evidence-based programs into practice. Developed and supported by the National Cancer Institute (NCI), this community is both an information resource and a forum where members can connect and collaborate with other public health professionals to ask questions, discuss ideas and solutions, share useful resources and tools, and participate in cyber-seminars and other events.

The purpose of this data collection effort is to garner R2R stakeholders’ satisfaction and feedback on the R2R web site in an efficient, timely manner. We will be using a qualitative customer satisfaction survey (opt-in web survey). Evaluation results will also provide real-time feedback of program efforts to help NCI decide whether or not to make changes to content, activities, and/or features of the web site.

DESCRIPTION OF RESPONDENTS:

The target audiences for this customer satisfaction survey are cancer control practitioners and researchers who utilize the Research to Reality (R2R) web site to discuss moving evidence-based programs into practice. We anticipate that our participants will come from a variety of different types of organizations, including: advocacy, academic, clinical settings, non-government, and government organizations. The survey is intended for web site visitors who have experience with the R2R web site or may have experience with the web site in the near future. The survey link will be placed in the featured content (yellow) box on the R2R homepage, <https://researchtoReality.cancer.gov>, until 300 web site visitors have responded to the survey.
