If sales to foreign persons of an individual type of intellectual property or service exceeded $6 million last fiscal year or are expected to exceed $6 million this fiscal year, then for that type of transaction, you must (a) mark (X) "Yes" on the appropriate row(s) of column 1 of Table 1; and (b) report transactions for the most recent quarter by individual foreign country on Schedule A and/or C, as appropriate.

If sales of an individual type of intellectual property or service were $6 million or less last fiscal year and are expected to be $6 million or less this fiscal year, then for that type of transaction, you must mark (X) "No." You are encouraged to voluntarily report more detailed information on Schedule A and/or C, as appropriate, because these data will make the aggregate totals more complete and accurate.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

Public reporting burden for this BE-125 report is estimated to average 16 hours per response. This burden includes time for reviewing instructions, searching existing data sources, gathering and maintaining the data needed, and completing and reviewing the collection of information. Send comments regarding this burden estimate to Chief, Balance of Payments Division, Bureau of Economic Analysis (BE-58), U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, DC 20230; and to the Office of Management and Budget, Paperwork Reduction Project 0608-0067, Washington, DC 20503.

Purpose – The Quarterly Survey of Transactions in Selected Services and Intellectual Property with Foreign Persons is conducted by the Department of Commerce to obtain data on the size and economic significance of these transactions. The information collected will be used to help support U.S. international economic policy, and analyze the impact of that policy and the policies of foreign countries, on international trade in services. The data will also be used in compiling the U.S. international transactions and national income and product accounts.

Authority – This survey is being conducted under the authority of the International Investment and Trade in Services Survey Act (P.L. 94-472, 90 Stat. 2059, 22 U.S.C. 3101-3108, as amended – hereinafter "the Act"), and the filing of reports is mandatory under Section 5(b)(2) of the Act (22 U.S.C. 3104). Regulations for the survey may be found in 15 CFR Part 801.

Penalties – Whoever fails to report may be subject to a civil penalty of not less than $2,500, and not more than $25,000, and to injunctive relief commanding such person to comply, or both. These civil penalties are subject to inflationary adjustments. Those adjustments are found in 15 CFR 6.4. Whoever willfully fails to report shall be fined not more than $10,000 and, if an individual, may be imprisoned for not more than one year, or both. Any officer, director, employee, or agent of any corporation who knowingly participates in such violations, upon conviction, may be punished by a like fine, imprisonment, or both. (See 22 U.S.C. 3105.) Notwithstanding the above, a U.S. person is not subject to any penalty for failure to report if a valid Office of Management and Budget (OMB) control number is not displayed on the form; such a number (0608-0067) is displayed at the top of the first page of this form.

Confidentiality – The Act provides that your report to this Bureau is CONFIDENTIAL and may be used only for analytical or statistical purposes. Without your prior written permission, the information filed in your report CANNOT be presented in a manner that allows it to be individually identified. Your report CANNOT be used for purposes of taxation, investigation, or regulation. Copies retained in your files are immune from legal process.

NOTES —

1. A single original copy of this report must be filed with the Bureau of Economic Analysis (BEA); please use the copy with the address label if such a labeled copy has been provided.
2. Currency amounts should be reported in U.S. dollars rounded to thousands (omitting 000). EXAMPLE – If the amount is $1,000,000, report as $1,000. Amounts less than $500.00 round to "0" and should, therefore, be omitted.

I. WHO IS TO REPORT AND GENERAL COVERAGE

A. Who is to report and transactions to be reported.

1. Mandatory reporting – A BE-125 report is required from each U.S. person (see General Instruction II. G. for definition of person) that had sales in excess of $6,000,000 or purchases in excess of $4,000,000 with foreign persons in any of the services or intellectual property listed in V. of these General Instructions during the U.S. person's prior fiscal year or for which sales or purchases are expected to exceed that amount during the current fiscal year. The determination of whether a U.S. person is subject to this mandatory reporting requirement may be judgmental, that is, based on the judgment of knowledgeable persons in a company who can identify reportable transactions on a recall basis, with a reasonable degree of certainty without conducting a detailed records search. Reporters who must report sales pursuant to this mandatory requirement must complete Table 1 and Schedules A and/or C of this form, and reporters who must report purchases pursuant to this mandatory requirement must complete Table 2 and Schedule B of this form. The total amounts of transactions applicable to a particular schedule are to be entered in the appropriate column(s) on line 33 of the schedule. In addition, these amounts must be distributed above line 33 to the country(ies) involved in the transaction(s).

2. Voluntary reporting – If, during the U.S. person's fiscal year, the U.S. person's total sales were $6,000,000 or less or total purchases were $4,000,000 or less in any of the types of services or intellectual property listed in V. of these General Instructions, the U.S. person is requested to provide an estimate of the total for each type of service or intellectual property on the appropriate schedule(s). Provision of this information is voluntary. The estimates may be judgmental, that is, based on recall, without conducting a detailed records search. Voluntary data should be entered onto line 34 of Schedule A or C for sales and Schedule B for purchases for the type of service or intellectual property transaction that you are reporting. (If information on the countries of the transactions is available, it would be helpful if the transactions were reported on lines 1 through 33 on Schedule A, B, or C; however, disaggregation by country is not required.) Reporters who elect to file pursuant to the voluntary reporting option must complete Parts 1 and 2 of the form.

3. Exemption – A U.S. person that receives this form from BEA but is not required to report data on a mandatory basis, and that has no transactions of the type covered or that elects not to report some or all data on a voluntary basis, must complete Parts 1 and 2.

B. BE-125 definition of services – Services transactions consist of receipts and payments for services as commonly defined and understood (examples are given below) as well as transactions in certain other "intangibles" or "nonvisibles," including transactions in patents and copyrights, and charges that may be recorded in business accounting records under a variety of names, such as allocated expenses, headquarter expenses, or miscellaneous charges. (However, not all services transactions are covered by the BE-125 survey – see below for a list of exclusions.) For example, services transactions include receipts and payments for the following categories of services:

1. Education, financial, construction, telecommunications, and other private services, including rents under operating leases.
2. Rights to use or acquire or sell intellectual property such as patents, trademarks, copyrights, formulae, etc.
3. Charges that companies assess against their foreign units for overhead, management services, R&D, advertising, and other support activities.

Services transactions exclude the following categories:

1. Purchases or sales of goods. Trade in goods involves products that have a physical form, and includes purchases or sales of electricity.
2. Purchases or sales of financial instruments, including stocks, bonds, financial derivatives, loans, mutual fund shares, and negotiable CDs. (However, securities brokerage is a service.)
3. Income on financial instruments (interest, dividends, capital gain distributions, etc).
4. Compensation paid to, or received by, employees.
5. Taxes, penalties and fines, gifts or grants (sometimes called "unilateral transfers").

For additional clarifications of reporting requirements, please read the BE-125 survey instructions, or call (202) 606-5588.

C. BE-125 definition of sales (receipts) or purchases (payments)

It should be noted that an item other than sales or purchases may be used as the measure of a given service for purposes of determining whether the threshold for mandatory reporting of the service is exceeded. Note that in several cases – advertising; telecommunications; performing arts, etc.; merchandising; miscellaneous disbursements (included in transaction number 31 in V. of these General Instructions) – measures other than, or in addition to, sales or purchases of services should be used. See V. of these General Instructions for an explanation of what measure should be applied in determining whether you are subject to the BE-125 survey's mandatory reporting requirements for a given service.

D. Clarification of coverage and special situations

- 1. Reporting period – Form BE-125 is a quarterly report; one report is to be filed for each fiscal quarter of the year.
- 2. Date of recording transactions – Transactions are to be reported on an accrual basis. However, telecommunications services should be reported on a settlement basis.
- 3. Withholding taxes – Data should be reported gross of U.S. and foreign withholding taxes.
- 4. Services covered regardless of where performed – Services sold to, or purchased from, foreign persons should be reported regardless of whether the services were performed in the United States or abroad.
- 5. Services or intellectual property bundled with goods or with other services and not separately valued – When a sale or purchase consists of both goods and services or intellectual property, or of several services or intellectual property, that cannot be unbundled (i.e., the goods and/or services/intellectual property are not separately valued), it should be classified based on whichever accounts for a majority of the value or on the basis of the reporter's customary practice.
- 6. Accounting for purchases – Purchases of services or intellectual property should be included without regard to whether they are charged as an expense on the income statement, capitalized, or charged to inventories.
- 7. Partnerships – A partnership is a business enterprise and must report if it has transactions covered by this survey. The report must be for, and the data and information must cover, the partnership as a whole, not just the activities of an individual partner.
- 8. Projects with U.S. Government nonmilitary agencies – Report information on services that are provided abroad for U.S. Government nonmilitary agencies, such as the Agency for International Development and the United States Information Agency, or that are part of an aid or technical cooperation program of the Government with foreign persons. However, do not report services provided to the U.S. Department of Defense or any of its agencies, such as the Army Corps of Engineers.
- 9. International organizations – Report transactions with international organizations, which, according to balance of payments conventions, are considered foreign persons even if they are headquartered in the United States. Enter the abbreviated designation, "Int'l Org." as the name of the country of the foreign party to the transaction.
- 10. Internet transactions – Reporting requirements are determined by who the transactions are with and not by where the services are performed or the location of the buyer and seller at the time of the transaction. Thus, reportable transactions include those conducted over the Internet or other networks.
- 11. Reciprocal exchanges – Include the value of reciprocal exchanges; i.e., transactions involving barter. On Schedule A, value your sales to the foreign participant in the reciprocal exchange at market rates, not at the actual cost of performing the services. On Schedule B, value your purchases from the foreign participant at the same amount as the sale reported on Schedule A.

E. Consolidation

If the U.S. Reporter is a corporation, please complete Form BE-125 to cover reportable transactions for the fully consolidated U.S. domestic enterprise consisting of (i) the U.S. corporation whose voting securities are not owned more than 50 percent by another U.S. corporation, and, proceeding down each ownership chain from that U.S. corporation, (ii) any U.S. corporation whose voting securities are more than 50-percent owned by the U.S. corporation above it.

The fully consolidated U.S. domestic enterprise excludes foreign branches and other foreign affiliates.

Conditions may exist that would lead a U.S. corporation to exclude certain majority-owned (more than 50-percent owned) domestic subsidiaries from financial statements used in reports to shareholders. If such a subsidiary has covered transactions, it must file a report under its own name, and the subsidiary will be considered the U.S. reporter for purposes of this survey.

III. GUIDELINES FOR CATEGORIZING ACTIVITIES

A. Distinguishing between unaffiliated and affiliated transactions

This survey covers U.S. persons' direct transactions, both sales and purchases, with affiliated and unaffiliated foreign persons.

Examples of affiliated transactions are:

1. A transaction between a U.S. person (U.S. parent) and its foreign affiliate.
2. A transaction between a U.S. person (U.S. affiliate) and its foreign parent(s) or member(s) of the affiliated foreign group(s).

Examples of unaffiliated transactions are:

1. A transaction between a U.S. person and an unaffiliated foreign person.
2. A transaction between one U.S. person and another U.S. person's foreign affiliate. Such a transaction is reportable by the first U.S. person.

Examples of transactions that are not reportable are:

1. A transaction between a U.S. affiliate of a foreign parent and another U.S. person.
2. A transaction between a U.S. parent's foreign affiliate and another foreign person.

B. Foreign activities of a U.S. person that do not constitute a foreign affiliate

Although the definitions of direct investment and foreign affiliate in II. above, together with the discussion in III.A. above, should be sufficient to determine whether a given foreign activity is or is not a foreign affiliate, in a number of cases the determination may be difficult. Several factors to be considered are given below. If you still cannot determine if the activity or operation is an affiliate, call (202) 606-5588 for additional guidance.

If a U.S. person's foreign activity or operation is incorporated abroad, it is a foreign affiliate.

If a U.S. person's foreign activity or operation is not incorporated abroad, its status is based on the weight of the evidence when the factors listed below are considered.

An unincorporated foreign activity or operation generally would be considered a foreign affiliate if it: (i) is subject to foreign income taxes; (ii) has a substantial physical presence abroad (e.g., plant and equipment or employees); (iii) maintains separate financial records that would permit the preparation of financial statements, including an income statement and balance sheet (not just a record of disbursements and receipts); (iv) takes title to the goods it sells and receives revenues therefrom; or (v) receives funds for its own account from customers for services it performs. Transactions with this type of entity should be reported under "Foreign affiliates."

An unincorporated foreign activity or operation generally would not be considered a foreign affiliate if it: (i) conducts business abroad only for the U.S. person's account and not for its own account (e.g., sales promotion or public relations type of activities); (ii) has no separate financial statements; (iii) receives funds to cover its expenses only from the U.S. person; (iv) is not subject to foreign income taxes; and (v) has limited physical assets, or employees, permanently located abroad. Transactions with this type of entity should be reported under "Unaffiliated foreign persons."

C. U.S. activities of a foreign person that do not constitute a U.S. affiliate

Criteria for determining which U.S. activities do or do not constitute a U.S. affiliate of a foreign person are parallel to those in III.B. above.

D. Determining who must report a transaction when an intermediary is involved

At times, transactions between a U.S. person and a foreign person may be arranged by, billed through, or otherwise facilitated by, an intermediary. The intermediary may be U.S. or foreign, and may be affiliated or unaffiliated with the U.S., or the foreign person.

A determination of whom a sale is to, or whom a purchase is from, should be made on the basis of whom the U.S. person considers itself to have a claim on for payment, in the case of a sale, or whom it has a liability to, in the case of a purchase. For a sale, if the U.S. person looks to the foreign person for payment, then the transaction is between the U.S. person and the foreign person, and is to be reported by the U.S. person. If the U.S. person looks to the intermediary for payment, and the intermediary, in turn, looks to the foreign person for payment, then whether either transaction is reportable, and who it is to be reported by, depends on the location of the intermediary and the relationship between the U.S. person and the intermediary.

If the intermediary is a foreign person, then the U.S. person would report the transaction as a transaction with a foreign person.

If the intermediary is a U.S. person, then the initial transaction between the original U.S. person and the intermediary is domestic-to-domestic and not reportable in this survey. However, the intermediary must report the transaction with the foreign person.

The reportability of a purchase would be determined in a similar manner.

V. SERVICES COVERED

A. Transactions in Intellectual Property

Report receipts on Schedule A and payments on Schedule B.

- 1. Rights related to industrial processes and products – Include license fees, royalties, and other fees received or paid for the, sale, or purchase, right to use, or right to reproduce or distribute intellectual property, including patents, trade secrets, and other proprietary rights, that are used in connection with, or related to, the production of goods. (For example, include "maintenance" fees paid to foreign governments for the continuation of patent rights.) If the charge for the process, design, etc., is subsumed in a contract for technical or professional services, the receipt or payment generally should be reported under the proper transaction number for that service.
- 2. Rights related to books, music, etc. – Include royalties and other fees received or paid for the rights to perform, broadcast, reproduce, and sell as books, (include books and magazines downloaded from the Internet), CD's, digital music, etc., or otherwise use copyrighted material and other intellectual property. Exclude fees for the right to display, reproduce, or distribute pre-recorded television tape or motion picture film; such charges should be reported under transaction code 4.
- 3. Rights related to trademarks – Include receipts and payments for the rights to sell products under a particular trademark, brand name, or signature. Include the initial fee and annual fees for the domain name registration for the Internet and the receipt and payment from the sale of a previously registered name. Include fees for sponsorship of other events if the fee is for the right to use the logo or trademark of the payee.

A sponsor of an international sporting event, such as the Olympics, should include payments of sponsorship fees if the right to use a trademark, such as the Olympic logo, in advertising, or to place such a trademark on merchandise is conveyed. Fees paid for the display of the payer's logo or trademark are reported under transaction code 10 as advertising payments. Exclude fees received or paid under a business format franchise (which are reportable under transaction code 7).

- 4. Rights related to performances and events pre-recorded on motion picture film and TV tape (include digital recordings) – Include royalties, rentals, license fees, and other funds received or paid, including those from outright sales and purchases, for the rights to display, reproduce, or distribute material pre-recorded on motion picture film or television tape (include digital recordings and video streaming). Include payments and receipts for all uses, including theatrical, cable, broadcast television, and non-theatrical. Production costs associated with pre-recorded content should be reported under transaction code 31.
- 5. Rights related to broadcasting and recording of live performances and events – Include receipts and payments for rights to record and/or broadcast "live" artistic performances, sports events, and other live performances or events. Payments (or receipts) for the acquisition (or sale) of rights to broadcast a major live performance or event, such as the Olympics, often extend over several years prior to the event. The cumulative amount of payments over all the years is to be reported on this form as an acquisition or sale of broadcast rights only in a single year or single period in which the event is actually held. The prior year payments are considered to be deposits with the organization (such as the International Olympic Committee) selling the broadcast rights, and should be reported on the Department of Treasury's TIC C-form. Inquiries about the TIC C-form survey should be directed to the Federal Reserve Bank of New York (as contractor for the Treasury Department) at (212) 720-6357. Production costs associated with broadcasting live events should be reported under transaction code 34.
- 6. Rights to general use computer software – Include receipts and payments for rights to distribute general use software, and rights to reproduce or use general use computer software that was electronically transmitted or made from a master copy. This item includes licensing fees for reproducing copies of general use software for local area network computer systems, and excludes that value of prepackaged general use software not intended for use on a server in a LAN environment that was physically shipped to or from the United States and included in merchandise trade statistics.

This item excludes the value of prepackaged general use software not intended for use on a server in a LAN environment that was physically shipped to or from the United States and non-customized (prepackaged) computer software on physical media for perpetual use shipped to or from the United States and reported on the import or export declaration filed with the U.S. Customs and Border Protection.

In addition, exclude fees for custom software and programming services, which are reportable under transaction code 12. Fees received or paid for the development of general use software should be reported under transaction code 29.

- 7. Business format franchising fees – Fees received and paid by the U.S. reporter under business format franchising agreements with foreign persons.

Business format franchising is characterized by an ongoing business relationship between franchisor and franchisee that includes not only the product, service, and trademark, but the entire business format itself. This may include a marketing strategy and plan, operating manuals and standards, quality control, and continuing two-way communications. Exclude receipts and payments for the use of trademarks (reportable under transaction code 3), except where such trademarks are part of a business format franchise, even if the fees are nominally considered to be "franchising" fees.

Receipts and payments should be reported net of advertising allowances and other deductions retained by franchisees from gross franchise fees. Include receipts and payments for one-time "up front" charges to new franchisees as well as ongoing fees based upon sales or other measures.

On Schedule A, U.S. franchisors should report receipts from both foreign outlets and foreign master licensees. In the case of fees received from a foreign master licensee, report only the net fees received from foreign outlets. Include receipts from "company-owned" outlets abroad.

Include receipts from jointly owned outlets.

On Schedule B, U.S. outlets and master licensees should report payments made directly to foreign franchisors. U.S. outlets should not report payments to U.S. master licensees, as these are domestic (U.S.-to-U.S.) transactions. Payments by a "company-owned" U.S. outlet to a foreign owner should be reported.

- 8. Other intellectual property – Include receipts and payments involving intellectual property not classified in one of the preceding categories. Include receipts or payments by communications carriers to secure capacity by indefeasible right of user (IRU's). For entries in this column, please specify on line 35 of the appropriate schedule the type of intellectual property involved. Goodwill is not intellectual property or a service and should be excluded from the survey.

Under receipts for advertising services, U.S. media companies (e.g., broadcasters, publishers, etc.) should report only direct sales of advertising services to foreign persons; they should not report advertising arranged by U.S. advertising agencies, including U.S. affiliates of foreign advertising agencies.

Under payments of advertising services, U.S. advertising agencies should report only funds paid to foreign advertising agencies and media companies on behalf of their clients. U.S. reporters other than advertising agencies should report only payments made directly to foreign advertising agencies and media companies.

Include the value of reciprocal exchanges; i.e., transactions involving barter. On Schedule A, value your receipts from the foreign participant in the reciprocal exchange at market rates, not at the actual cost of performing the services. On Schedule B, value your payments from the foreign participant at the same amount as the sales reported on Schedule A.

- 11. Auxiliary insurance services – Agent's commissions, insurance brokering and agency services, insurance consulting services, evaluation and adjustment services, actuarial services, salvage administration services, and regulatory and monitoring services on indemnities and recovery services. Also exclude computer training courses not designed for a specific user (include in transaction code 15), charges for licenses to reproduce or distribute software (include in transaction code 6), and leasing of computers with an operator (include in transaction code 24).

- 16. Engineering, architectural, and surveying services – Includes architectural, engineering and land-surveying services. Includes those engineering services performed in conjunction with construction and mining services projects. Includes services purchased in connection with proposed projects (e.g., feasibility studies) as well as projects that are actually being carried out. Industrial engineering services, such as product design services, should be reported under transaction code 18.
- 17. Financial services (purchases only) – This service is to be reported by companies that are not a financial services provider. The definition of financial services providers used for this survey is identical in coverage to Sector 52 – Finance and Insurance, and holding companies from Sector 55 of the North American Classification System United States, 2007.

Credit-related fees include fees for establishing, maintaining, or arranging credits, letters of credit, bankers acceptances, mortgages, factoring services, loan guarantees, etc., that are commonly provided by foreign banking establishments. Include fees paid directly and fees that are withheld or deducted from your proceeds by the foreign person. For example, for factoring services, the fee may be calculated as the difference between the proceeds you received from the sale of your receivables and the face amount of the receivables sold; for arranging credits, letters of credit, etc., it may be calculated as the difference between the proceeds you received from the loan, letter of credit, etc. (after the deduction of the fee) and your liability to the foreign lending establishment. Report credit-related fees in the accounting period in which they are incurred, whether or not expensed in that accounting period. Exclude interest on your obligations, because interest is a payment for the use of the loan proceeds and is not a fee for the establishment, maintenance, or arrangement of credit.

Fees on securities transactions include commissions and other fees for securities transactions (including transactions in derivatives) or futures trading, such as brokerage, underwriting, private placements, etc. Fees for such services would commonly be paid to foreign investment banks and securities brokers or dealers. Include fees that can be calculated from transactions records or other documentation issued by the investment bank or security broker or dealer. Omit, rather than attempt to estimate these fees if they cannot be calculated from such documentation. (For example, a dealer's markup on bond purchases and sales cannot be directly estimated from transactions records issued by a securities dealer.)

Fees for other financial services include fees for asset/liability management, debt renegotiation, and other financial services. Exclude leasing (operational leasing services are included in transaction code 24), and real estate management services (management, consulting, and public relations services are included in transaction code 21).

18. Industrial engineering services – Engineering services related to the design of movable products, including product design services. 19. Industrial-type maintenance, installation, alteration, and training services – Maintenance services primarily to machinery and equipment. May also include small maintenance work on buildings, structures, dams, highways, etc., but only to the extent that the work is not reported under transaction code 13. Includes such services as the periodic overhaul of turbines, the extinguishment of natural gas well fires, and refinery maintenance. Excludes computer maintenance (report under transaction code 12). Installation and training services include only installation, startup, and training services provided by a manufacturer in connection with the sale of a good. Do not include such services where the cost is included in the price of the goods and not separately billed, or is declared as a part of the price of the goods on the import or export declaration filed with the U.S. Census Bureau; however, services provided at a price over and above that entered on the declaration should be included. These services would be reported elsewhere if not received in connection with the purchase of goods. For example, installation of machinery and equipment is normally considered a construction activity, and training personnel in the use of new machinery would ordinarily be reported as an educational or training service.

20. Legal services – Legal advice or other legal services.

21. Management, consulting, and public relations services (including allocated expenses) – Management services; consulting services; public relations services; market research; public opinion polling services; and amounts received by a parent company from its affiliates for general overhead and stewardship. Also excludes transactions between parent companies and affiliates that are identifiable as arising from the provision of advertising, accounting, legal, R&D, etc. services, even if these amounts represent reimbursements of sums paid to third parties. That is, transactions between parent companies and affiliates should not be reported in management services if they can instead be reported in another services category.

22. Merchanting services (Receipts only) – Sales of merchanting services are equal to the difference between your cost and the resale price of goods (such as crude oil, grain, and other commodities) that are both purchased and resold abroad; that is, the goods are neither imported to, nor exported from, the United States and they do not undergo significant processing during the time between when they are purchased and resold. Without regard to whether you initially purchased the goods from an affiliated or unaffiliated foreign person, report data for those transactions according to the company's relationship with the foreign entity (foreign affiliate, foreign parent(s) and foreign affiliates of foreign parent(s) group(s), or unaffiliated foreign person) to which the goods were resold. Only the all countries total (line 33 of Schedule A) is required to be reported for this service, even if total sales exceed $6 million. The data that are voluntarily reported by individual foreign country should be reported according to the individual foreign countries to which the goods were resold (and not the foreign countries from which the goods were purchased).

23. Mining services – Includes drilling wells for oil or gas field operations; exploration, including prospecting and taking ore samples; grading and building foundations at well locations; well surveying; and making geological observations. Includes services purchased in connection with proposed projects (e.g. feasibility studies) as well as projects that are actually being carried out. Exclude leasing of oil platforms and rigs (report under transaction code 24).

24. Operational leasing – Rentals for computer and data processing equipment; transportation equipment (such as ships, aircraft, railway cars, containers, rigs automotive fleets, etc.) without crew or operators (If crew or operators are provided, the fee is considered to be for transportation services which may be reportable on BEA forms BE-9, BE-30, or BE-37. Go to www.bea.gov/bea/surveys/iussurv.htm to determine which forms cover your particular transportation services.); and rentals of other machinery and equipment. Include fees from rentals of furniture, coin-operated machines, construction equipment (without operators) and electronic equipment except computers. This category excludes rentals under leases that have been capitalized (capital leases) and rentals of any items other than machinery and equipment. (For example, it excludes rentals of office buildings and other real estate, film rentals, and employee leasing.)

25. Trade-related services, other than merchanting services – Trade-related services cover commissions on goods and service transactions payable to merchants, commodity brokers, dealers, auctioneers, and commission agents. For example, these services include the auctioneer's fees (including online), transactions fees for business to business (B2B) exchanges, or agent's commissions on sales of ships, aircraft, and other goods. If the trader owns the goods being sold, the trader's margin is generally included indistinguishably in the price of the goods. However, any margins not included in the price of the goods are included in trade-related services. Exclude brokerage on financial instruments, which are reportable on BEA's BE-185, Survey of Financial Services Transactions between U.S. Financial Services Providers and Foreign Persons. Also exclude transport-related charges, such as agency commissions, which are included on BEA's surveys of transportation services. Marketing services should be reported under transaction code 10.

26. Performing arts, sports, and other live performances, presentations, and events – Fees to performers, athletes, directors, and producers involved with, concerts, theatrical and musical productions, sporting events, and similar events for performing arts, sports, etc. To be reported by (a) U.S. management companies, booking agents, promoters, and presenters who received funds from or paid funds to foreign persons, for performances and events, and (b) U.S. performers who received funds directly from a foreign person rather than through a U.S. management company or similar entity. (As used here "performers" means entertainers, sports teams, orchestras, dance companies, lecturers, and similar persons or performing groups.) Do not include fees paid to employees of the entity making payments, such as foreign athletes who play for U.S. resident sports teams.

Note for services numbered 27 and 28: When you report either transaction codes number 27 or 28, also report the other service. If there are transactions in one of these services but not in the other, label a column in Schedule B with the number for the other service and enter "NA" on line 33.

Premiums (net of cancellations) paid to foreign insurance carriers. A U.S. reporter, that is an insurance company, should not report direct transactions with a foreign insurance company. However, a U.S. reporter, that is not an insurance company that purchased insurance from an affiliated foreign insurance company (for example, a captive insurance affiliate) should report those purchases here. (See note above.)

- 28. Losses recovered on primary insurance (purchases only) – Losses recovered on insurance purchased from foreign insurance carriers. A U.S. reporter that is an insurance company should not report losses with a foreign insurance company. Telecommunications services – Telecommunications services encompass the broadcast or transmission of sound, images, data, or other information by telephone, telex, telegram, radio, and television cable transmission, radio and television satellite electronic mail, facsimile, and so forth, including business network services, teleconferencing, and support services. They do not include the value of the information transported. Also included are mobile telecommunications services, Internet backbone services, and online access services, including provision of access to the Internet. Excluded are installation services for telephone network equipment (report under transaction code 13) and database services (report under transaction code 14). Includes services of the following types (to be reported in aggregate, rather than as five separate types of services):

Message telephone services, telex, telegram, and other jointly provided basic services – On Schedule A, report receipts from foreign persons (communications companies and postal, telephone, and telegraph agencies) for your share of revenues for transmitting messages originating abroad to U.S. destinations. On Schedule B, report payouts to foreign persons (communications companies and PTT's) for their share of revenues for transmitting messages originating in the United States to foreign destinations. For messages originating in foreign countries and routed through the United States (for example, from Caribbean countries via the United States to Western Europe), report receipts from the foreign person originating the message and payouts to the country of destination. Also report receipts for transmitting messages between foreign points when not offered in connection with enhanced services, call-back services, and other regulated services of the type reportable to the FCC on Report 43.61.

Private leased channel services – On Schedule A, report receipts from foreign persons for circuits and channels terminating in the United States and for circuits and channels between foreign points. On Schedule B, report payouts to foreign persons (communications companies and PTT's) for leased channels and circuits terminating in foreign countries.

Value-added (enhanced) services – Telecommunications services that add value or function above and beyond the telecommunications transport services that deliver the value-added services to end users. They can include (a) electronic mail, voice mail, code and protocol processing, texting, and management and operation of data networks; (b) facsimile services and video-conferencing; (c) Internet connections (online access service including Internet backbone, router repair of telecommunications equipment and ground station services. Do not include installation services for telephone network equipment (Included in transaction code 13).

Reciprocal exchanges – Include the value of reciprocal exchanges; i.e., transactions involving barter. On Schedule A, value your sales to the foreign participant in the reciprocal exchange at market rates, not at the actual cost of performing the services. On Schedule B, value your purchases from the foreign participant at the same amounts as the sales reported on Schedule A.

- 31. Other selected services – When reporting data under this transaction code number, also identify the specific type of transaction from the list below accounting for the largest share of the reported total. This category does not include travel, transportation, insurance, financial services, and expenditures by students and medical patients who are studying or seeking treatment in a country different from their country of residence. This category includes but is not limited to the following types of services:

Agricultural services – Soil preparation services, crop services, veterinary and other animal services, farm labor and management services, and landscape and horticultural services.

Note for miscellaneous disbursements: Where a set of related expenditures was made in several countries, but your recordkeeping does not permit a precise allocation of expenses among individual countries, estimates are acceptable. If no basis for such estimates exists, then you may record the expenditures against the country in which the activities were centered or headquartered. For example, a news correspondent may conduct news-gathering activities in several countries. Although it would be preferable to report news-gathering expenses in each of the several countries, all of the expenses may, if necessary, be recorded against the country where the foreign news bureau is headquartered, or where the correspondent had the largest outlays.

Disbursements to fund news-gathering costs of broadcasters – U.S. broadcasters' outlays to fund operations of their foreign news bureaus and for support of correspondents in foreign countries, and foreign broadcasters' outlays to fund operations of their U.S. news bureaus and for support of correspondents in the United States. Includes disbursements for broadcasting professional or amateur sporting events, and the disbursements for production of the events themselves. (See note above.)

Disbursements to fund production costs of motion pictures – Foreign production costs of U.S. motion picture companies, and U.S. production costs of foreign motion picture companies. (See note above.)

Disbursements to maintain government tourism and business promotion offices – Funding to maintain State tourism and business promotion offices located abroad, and funding to maintain foreign government sponsored tourism and business promotion offices located in the United States. (See note above.)

Disbursements for sales promotion and representation – Funding to maintain sales promotion and representative offices. Sales promotion offices typically have few assets other than office furniture; to the extent that their employees are compensated by commissions, the commissions arise only from sales or business that the employees generate for their U.S. or foreign parents; they do not produce revenue, other than funds from their parents to cover their expenses; and they are engaged only in sales promotion, representational, and public-relations-type activities. Report the funds to maintain this type of office as a transaction with an unaffiliated entity as opposed to a transaction with an affiliated foreign person. (See note above.)

Disbursements to participate in foreign trade shows (outlays only) – Foreign expenses incurred by U.S. persons participating in foreign trade shows. (See note above.)

Employment agencies and temporary help supply services – Employment services and provision of temporary help and personnel to perform services on a contract or fee basis. Other private services – Report transactions in the following types of services: Language translation services, salvage services, security services, collection services, satellite photography and remote sensing/satellite imagery services, space transport (includes satellite launches, transport of goods and people for scientific experiments, and space passenger transport), and transcription services. Also include services not elsewhere classified, except travel, transportation, insurance, financial services, and expenditures by students and medical patients who are studying or seeking treatment in a country different from their country of residence. See I.B. for a definition of services covered by the BE-125 survey that – when considered in connection with service categories 9 through 30 above – also helps to describe what transactions are reportable in this category.
