What is CareerTrac?

CareerTrac is a system to enable effectiveness evaluations of health research training programs, funded by NIH/FIC, for international trainees.

CareerTrac can be accessed using an Internet connected web-browser. It accomplishes its purpose by providing the ability to collect, track, and report on information about international trainees - such as Contact Information, Biographical Information, and Training Information. The CareerTrac system also supports tracking of trainee Accomplishments - such as fellowships, awards, employment, other education, product or policy developments, publications, funding received, presentations, posters at scientific conferences, and students taught.

Who are the intended users of CareerTrac?

Overall, CareerTrac is intended to be a tool for FIC staff to evaluate the effectiveness and impact of its health research training programs and also to help FIC in overall coordination of its various research training programs. On a day-to-day basis, however, CareerTrac is used mostly by the Principal Investigators that manage FIC grants. In the future, CareerTrac will also serve as a repository of training information and accomplishments for both Principal Investigators and Trainees, and can be used for the purpose of self-evaluation of training programs.

What is CareerTrac?

CareerTrac is a system to enable effectiveness evaluations of health research training programs, funded by NIH/NIEHS, for pre- and post-doctoral trainees specializing in the environmental health sciences.

CareerTrac can be accessed using an Internet connected web-browser. It accomplishes its purpose by providing the ability to collect, track, and report on information about NIEHS-supported trainees - such as contact information, biographical information, and training information. The CareerTrac system also supports tracking of trainee accomplishments - such as fellowships, awards, employment, other education, product or policy developments, publications, funding received, presentations, posters at scientific conferences, and students taught.

Who are the intended users of CareerTrac?

Overall, CareerTrac is intended to be a tool for NIEHS staff to evaluate the effectiveness and impact of its health research training programs and also to help NIEHS in overall coordination of its various research training programs. On a day-to-day basis, however, CareerTrac is used mostly by the Principal Investigators responsible for NIEHS training grants. In the future, CareerTrac will also serve as a repository of training information and accomplishments for both Principal Investigators and Trainees, and can be used for the purpose of self-evaluation of training programs.

Frequently Asked Questions

Logged in as wolfnanm
Change Password | Logout

Accomplishments

Q: Should users enter accomplishments that took place before being trained by NIEHS?

A: Only enter accomplishments that take place during or after training. NIEHS will not use pre-training accomplishments.

Data Entry

Q: Do you envision each trainee entering their own data, or the PI's entering for them?

A: For quality control purposes, we recommend PIs or their Administrators enter trainee information into ES CareerTrac.

Populate Data

Q: Is there a way to update the info in the report and somehow have that info populate back into the data?

A: At this time there is no way to populate or copy/paste the data. We plan to address this issue in a future enhancement.

Postdoc

Q: What is the NIH definition of a postdoc?

A: An individual who has received a doctoral degree (or equivalent) and is engaged in a defined period of mentored advanced training to enhance the professional skills and research independence needed to pursue his or her chosen career path.

Pre-populated Fields

Q: Why do some of the fields have pre-populated data?

A: ES CareerTrac is based on grant numbers coming from the IMPAC II database at NIH. Relationships have already been established to the grant number, PI, PI institution and countries. Additionally, the ES CareerTrac system has pre-populated the trainee data that is already stored in IMPAC II.

Publications

Q: Are publications now entered in CareerTrac rather than included in our annual report? What if we have a pub to report and the former trainee has not submitted a privacy form?

A: Please enter the trainee information and get the privacy statement from the trainee. Publications for the grant (that are not reflected in a trainee's record)
