TITLE OF INFORMATION COLLECTION:

Good Laboratory Practices for Molecular Genetic Testing eLearning Course Learner Feedback Survey

PURPOSE:

The educational content of this basic-level eLearning course is relevant to laboratory scientists and health care professionals working in hospitals, reference laboratories, universities and public health settings. This 1.5 contact hour eLearning course is offered free of charge and hosted on CDC TRAIN.

An email invitation to complete the Good Laboratory Practices for Molecular Genetic Testing eLearning Course Learner Feedback voluntary survey will be sent to learners designated by CDC TRAIN as having completed all components the course during October 1, 2017 through September 30, 2018 (FY2018). The email invitation will include clickable links to either proceed to the survey or unsubscribe (opt out.) Learners may also opt out by not responding to the email. If learners click the link to begin the survey in the email, they will link to a Survey Monkey webpage housing the survey.

The information to be collected aims to understand to what extent the learners are able to use the content of the courses in their work settings. The survey questions will take approximately 10 minutes to complete. Responses will be anonymous and no unique identifying information will be sought or kept. The feedback we receive will be used by our program in aggregate only. The learner feedback will help the continuous quality assurance of our instructional design process and inform updates to these courses in alignment with learner’ needs. Learner feedback will provide valuable insight on the instructional design of this eLearning course, which includes relevance and applicability of content.

DESCRIPTION OF RESPONDENTS:

This is a voluntary survey to collect information from learners who have completed the Good Laboratory Practices for Molecular Genetic Testing eLearning Course, which may include laboratory scientists and health care professionals working in clinical, reference, university, and public health laboratories.
