the Revenue Act of 1978 and the Tax Treatment = replaces the rehabilitation tax incentives under these = beginning January 1, 1982 with a 25% investment tax = rehabilitations of historic commercial, industrial and = residential buildings. This can be combined with a = cost recovery period for the adjusted basis of the = building. Historic buildings with certified = receive additional tax savings by their exemption from = requirement to reduce the basis of the building by the =

of the credit. The denial of accelerated depreciation = building built on the site of a demolished historic =
