TITLE OF INFORMATION COLLECTION:

NIH Office of Intramural Training & Education (OITE) – Amgen Scholars at NIH Feedback

PURPOSE:

The Amgen Scholars at NIH program is a partnership between Amgen Foundation, the Foundation for the NIH, and the NIH Office of Intramural Training & Education (OITE). Amgen Scholars at NIH spend the summer performing research within the NIH Intramural Research Program as a summer trainee. Participants are exposed to basic, translational, and clinical research as well as participating in journal clubs, case studies, writing projects and other group activities designed to develop communication, career readiness, and critical thinking skills. The program includes a particular focus on health disparities and the science policy involved in their elimination. Additional details about the Amgen Scholars at NIH program may be found by visiting: <https://www.training.nih.gov/amgenscholars>.

DESCRIPTION OF RESPONDENTS:

The OITE wishes to collect feedback from students participating in the Amgen Scholars at NIH partnership. Responses will be used to enhance and expand the program for future participants. Participants do not receive financial support from the NIH, but rather from a non-federal source.
