Note: A Federal eagle incidental take permit authorizes the disturbance of eagles where the take results from but is not the purpose of an otherwise lawful activity. Permits are available to individuals, agencies, Tribes, businesses, and other organizations. Please read “Frequently Asked Questions About a Federal Permit For Eagle Disturbance Take” and the pertinent regulations in 50 CFR Part 22, Subpart E before you sign and submit your application.

We will not review large attachments in their entirety to find pertinent information unless properly referenced.

Your responses should be thorough and specific. Incomplete applications will be returned. Processing fees are nonrefundable regardless of whether a permit is issued, abandoned, or denied. The Service will not refund any application or renewal fee under any circumstances if we have processed the application (see 50 CFR 13.11(D1)). For specific permits, processing time depends on the complexity of the request and completeness of the application. Please allow a minimum of 60-90 days for initial application review. Complex applications, including those that require additional environmental compliance review, may take longer to process.
